President's Message

"Coming together is a beginning; keeping together is progress; working together is success"
– Henry Ford

Sudhanshu "Sam" B. Desai, D.D.S.

The summer meeting at The Ritz-Carlton in Naples was a huge success with a record number of attendees. The combination of great education lectures and fun activities made the meeting a success. The social on Saturday with The Royal Indian Theme was well attended and fun, with many of you enjoying the decor, entertainment, photo booth, music and food. It was a great opportunity for all members and families to come together, network and have a great time. I really appreciated the fantastic participation in all of these events.

As your current president, I am facing many challenges. At the forefront is the issue of membership. Although this challenge is not new, with grass-roots efforts beginning in 2003, it has been an ongoing effort by past and present officers. The strategy to achieve this goal is utilizing past experiences where the most successful recruitment came from dentist-to-dentist outreach. It is my goal to increase membership, working at the grass-roots level, in harmony with the FDA and ADA plans. Membership matters the most. Please get involved, stay informed and maintain your membership. Strength does come in numbers.

We need to change. Change comes with challenges. Change has to be made to adapt and excel. The hardest challenge is to learn new things and unlearn learned things. If we are not willing to learn no one can help us, but if we are determined to learn no one can stop us. In May we got together for a strategic planning day for Strong Organized Dentistry. This meeting resulted in a set direction of plans, to be implemented over the next two years. The goal is to achieve dentist contingency support, advocacy of practice, access to care, and education for member satisfaction & service.

Think Big Think Service

To serve you, I am constantly thinking about plans, constantly implementing plans, and constantly modifying plans. I am planning to visit all the affiliates to introduce myself to the grass-roots members, share ideas, and to find out what is happening in their districts. I really appreciated the affiliate presidents who attended the round table meeting. We shared some wonderful ideas and brainstormed many problems and developed solutions. I look forward to continuing to work with them this year.

So I start this year with many changes, including the dissolution of the House of Delegates, the New Member voting bylaws change, and formation of a task group are a few. I encourage all of you to participate in all upcoming events, including the Florida MOM program, through the Florida Dental Health Foundation. They are in need of volunteers and it is a great opportunity as members to show our support.

I look forward to working with all of you in my year as President. Fun, Fun, Fun...

Sincerely,

Sudhanshu (Sam) B. Desai, D.D.S.

Entire article published in the Journal of the American College of Dentists
– Dr. Mark Bauman, Chairman - ADA Council on Membership

The American Dental Association and the Value of Membership

The ADA represents the profession in all of its many facets. Both general dentists and specialists are ADA members. ADA members may own their own practices, work as employees, or care for patients in a public health setting. Dentists working in an academic setting find a home in the ADA, as do those working in research, dental manufacturing, and in the military or other federal services. Affiliate membership is open to dentists in other countries, and a small number of non-practicing dentists hold membership as well. In short, the ADA serves all dentists.

What does it mean to serve all dentists in 2013? Today, there are more technology, tools, and evidence-based information to deliver the best possible care to patients. A beautiful, healthy smile is the norm for many, and growing awareness of the oral health-overall health connection reinforces the critical role of dentists. Yet the profession has never been more challenged, as millions of Americans do not access the care they need due to poverty, geography, and lack of oral health education.

Serving membership means both improving the lives of individual dentists and their patients, as well as looking beyond the four walls of an individual practice to affect change in the wider world. The ADA has served in the profession and public for over 154 years and is continuing to adapt in ways that provide the greatest value to members, the profession, and the public.

ADA Membership by the Numbers- A Snapshot

With over 157,000 dentist members and more than 18,000 student members, the ADA is the largest and most diverse organization for the dental profession in the United States. The ADA has a very healthy membership participation rate- 66.2% of active, licensed dentists belong. However, the number of active members has remained essentially flat over the last five years. The number of dentists in practice has grown, resulting in a decline in market share.

Serving Dentists with ADA Membership

Is the ADA doing a good job of serving its members? The evidence is positive. Beginning in 2005, the ADA used an annual survey to assess key metrics related to member satisfaction and loyalty. About two-thirds of ADA members say they are extremely likely or very likely to recommend ADA membership to a colleague. Why do ADA members maintain membership? The top three reasons, in rank order, are: (1.) Supporting the profession (2.) Advocacy (3.) Professional credibility

These three “intangible” benefits make up about 50% of the reasons dentists maintain membership in the ADA. The other 50%? Those are the tangible benefits of membership – benefits, products, and services that member dentists tap into on a regular basis. View the list of benefits by visiting http://www.ada.org/sections/professionalResources/pdfs/150_reasons_brochure.pdf.

Advocating for the Profession, Educating the Public

Government decisions about oral health care should only be made with the advice and input from dentistry – and the ADA is widely acknowledged as the leading advocate for oral health. The ADA has a dedicated staff of more than 20 in its Washington office, while another office in Chicago provides support to advocacy efforts at the state level through the constituent dental societies. The ADA represents dentists’ views related to patient care and the profession. Most recently, the ADA has been the leading voice for the dental profession regarding the implementation of the new health care reform law, including state health exchanges, the Essential Benefits Package, and exempting certain products from the law’s new excise tax. In 2012 the ADA joined with Partnership for Healthy Mouths, Healthy Lives coalition and the Ad Council on a three-year oral health literacy campaign to help raise awareness and educate parents and caregivers about the value of good oral health for their children and how it can be achieved. The ADA also launched MouthHealthy.org, a consumer Web site that promotes a healthy mouth for life. The Web site includes a symptom checker, A-Z topics, ADA Seal of Acceptance products, content organized by life stages, and tips and activities to build awareness and make oral healthcare fun for kids. ADA member dentists are featured on the site through ADA Find-A-Dentist.

Ethics are Essential

Professional ethics distinguish a profession from a job, and ethics are so important to the dental profession that members must agree to abide by the ADA principles of Ethics and Code of Professional Conduct as a condition for ADA membership. To help members live that commitment every day, the ADA hosts a number of ethics resources on its Web site at ADA.org/ethicsconduct, including an entire page devoted to highlighting resources from the American College of Dentists.

Answering the Question: “What’s in it for Me?”

The “intangible” benefits of membership are clear, but in tough economic times, it is not surprising that dentists are looking to the ADA to deliver value on a daily basis. The list of benefits is long- but here are some highlights:

Insurance Resources - The ADA sponsored Members Insurance Plans are available exclusively to ADA members and are designed specifically for dentists. The plans offer term life, universal life, disability, overhead expense, and MedCash supplemental health care coverage at premiums that are among the most competitive on the market. ADA Catalog – From customized patient-education brochures, to smartphone apps, to The ADA Practical Guide to Social Media Planning, the ADA Catalog provides a wealth of resources to improve a dentist’s life. ADA Annual Session – The ADA Annual Session brings together leaders in dental practice, research, academics, and industry to present more than 250 continuing education courses over four days. Coming Soon: The Center for Professional Success – This new, Web-based resource will be dedicated to helping member dentists achieve practice, professional, and personal success.

Focusing on Young Practitioners

Today’s dental students and new dentists – those who graduated fewer than ten years ago – are facing a changing profession. That is why it is critical that young practitioners have a strong voice within organized dentistry. The ADA New Dentist Committee is the standing committee of the Board of Trustees that serves as that voice. Dental education is expensive, and making the transition to practice can be financially challenging. That’s why the ADA offers a reduced dues program. The first year of national dues are $0, and the progression increases slowly (25-50-75-100%), so new grads do not pay full dues until the fifth year out of school.

ADA Members Get More with the Power of Three

The American Dental Association is the #1 organization serving all dentists, across all occupations, practice settings, specialties, and of every demographic background. But the strength and the value of the ADA are not in the national association alone: the constituent (Florida Dental Association) and component (West Coast District Dental Association) organizations play an equally important role. Members confirm that the value received at each level is high. The power of three levels, working together, increases the relevance, benefits, and positive impact of the American Dental Association.

Important Information

Florida Department of Health CE Tracking - License Renewal, February 28, 2014

Beginning March 1, 2014, the Department of Health and Medical Quality Assurance will verify a practitioner's continuing education record in an electronic tracking system at the time of renewal. Currently, recording in the tracking system is not required. However, it will be required for the next biennium. Visit www.CEatRenewal.com for more information.

ADA Ethics Hotline

This new service is available to members of the ADA. This member service is designed to assist new dentists and other members manage ethical challenges that may arise in day-to-day practice. The Ethics Hotline is not a legal resource, but rather a service for helping to resolve ethical dilemmas much like an ethics consult service. Callers will be matched with a member of the Council on Ethics, Bylaws, and Judicial Affairs (CEBJA) who will arrange to call the member at a mutually agreeable time to discuss the issue and offer resources that may assist in resolving the dilemma. Visit <http://www.ada.org/8180.aspx> for more information. To reach the Ethics Hotline, simply call the ADA Member Service Center at (800) 621-8099 and ask to be connected to the Hotline.

CE Online Course Helps with New HIPAA Rules

New rules under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act require covered dental practices to make changes to how they comply with the law. The new rules took effect March 26, 2013 and dental practices must be in compliance with most of the new rules by Sept. 23, 2013. ADA CE Online is offering a new online course to assist dental practices with compliance. For more information on HIPAA, visit www.hhs.gov/ocr/privacy. To take the CE Online course, visit www.adaceonline.org.

Speakers and Seminars

Are you a qualified speaker who would enjoy sharing knowledge and expertise with colleagues at local affiliate meetings? Or do you have a local speaker recommendation? If so, please contact the WCDDA office at (813) 654-2500 to help expand the program pool.

Volunteer at a Clinic Near You

There are many different locations throughout the WCDDA district that are in need of volunteers to help underserved individuals receive necessary dental work. Please consider volunteering and contact the WCDDA office at (813) 654-2500 for a list of clinics in your area.

Florida's First Mission of Mercy Program (FLA MOM) comes to Tampa March 28-29, 2014.

There is nothing like it! If you or your organization has been associated with a Mission of Mercy – participated in one – you no doubt have captured the passion. Two days of absolutely free dental care to all who come leave most volunteers and patients with a changed perspective on the goodness of mankind. “The largest free dental clinic in the world!” “A life-changing experience!” “For me, an experience of a lifetime!” “The greatest active charity in the nation!” Thousands come, standing in snow calf-deep for hours, waiting in quarter mile lines in 100 degree weather, sleeping outside entrances on below –zero nights, all just to receive dental care. These are the underserved – those who cannot for whatever reason afford quality dental care. Their need has been defined at each and every MOM event held in Virginia, Texas, North Carolina, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, or any of the many other states who have joined along the way. The need is there and through the generosity of dental professionals, dental technicians, lay volunteers, community leaders and businesses across the country, and the charitable work of dental agencies and organizations throughout America, those needs are being addressed.

Over the course of two full days, 300+ Dentists, Dental Specialists, Registered Dental Hygienists, and Physicians along with more than 1000 support volunteers will descend upon the 40,000 square foot Special Events Pavilion of the Florida State Fairgrounds in Tampa to treat between 1,600-2,000 patients!

With the blessing and support of the Florida Dental Health Foundation, a FLA MOM Committee has been Formed, including Drs. Nolan Allen, Terry Buckenheimer, Leo Cullinan, and Robert Payne with staff support from Rusty Payton and Stefanie Dedmon. Sub-committee Chairs have been assigned as well:

FLA MOM Co-Chairs: Drs. Nolan Allen and Leo Cullinan

Clinical Co-Chairs: Drs. Chris Bulnes and Oscar Menendez

Facility Chair: Dr. Craig Oldham

Fundraising Chair: Dr. Rudy Liddell

Hospitality Chair: Dr. Robert Churney

Media/Public Relations: Dr. Johnny Johnson and Ms. Karen Pesce

Volunteer Coordinator Co-Chairs: Drs. Reza Iranmanesh, Robin Nguyen and Mrs. Lissette Zuknick

West Coast District Dental Association Liaison: Dr. Sam Desai (WCDDA President)

We need volunteers!!! Teams of volunteers (professional, staff, and non-professional) are being formed from each of our 12 active affiliate organizations within the WCDDA. Stay tuned for more information, the official launch of our FLA MOM website, and descriptions of all volunteer opportunities. We encourage everyone to be a part of this wonderful community service event and priceless volunteer experience. Mark your calendars!!! March 28-29, 2014!

The Last Word

Steve Zuknick, DMD

If it were up to me I wouldn't give a single licensed dentist in the state of Florida the option of remaining solo. Not solo in office space per se, but solo as it pertains to the practice of dentistry. I guess that would force all dentists into involuntary membership, which would be a lot like the state bar for attorneys. But I wonder if that would make us effective. Effective in the realm of state capital buildings and legislature. Would 100 percent membership in a required association be more impressive than 70, 60 or even 50 percent market share of a voluntary membership? That is a difficult question to answer-in theory. In practice, however, that question gets answered every day and has been proven effective for many, many years. We always have had the membership numbers to garner the clout needed to bend ears and mold laws in Tallahassee and Washington. The scary thing is finding out what happens when we don't have the numbers.

Our nonmembers are lucky, lucky that they are not one of my children. How easy, albeit wrong, was it to punish a child with a switch or a spanking in the past? It was effective, tough love. Joining organized dentistry shouldn't be as painful, but for some of us it is. I got creative with one of my sons who repeatedly failed to see the importance of getting good grades in high school. After taking away just about every privilege known to mankind, to no avail, I announced that he would "be joining the cross country team". I dropped his 5'10" frame off at the Dover horse trails on a balmy Monday afternoon with a heat index of 105. A few teammates regurgitated 3 months worth of summer snacks that afternoon, and another had a date with the sand, face first next to a large cookie an equine member of the trail had left behind. Not pretty to say the least, but the funny thing was...my eldest pulled through unscathed (well, sort of). Covered head-to-toe in mud (the geology type, not the horse dirt kind) and grinning from ear-to-ear, he exclaimed, "That's the most intense thing I've ever done!" He was high as a kite, until he found out it all happened again at 3:15 p.m. the next day. He's excelled like never before, but never would have agreed to join the cross country team on his own. What's the point? It isn't always going to be easy, but making the decision to join will make it a lot easier. If you can't make the decision, let me make it for you.
